Dear Owen Boswarva

Thank you for confirming that DLUHC has issued a response. I understand that you are considering requesting an internal review

FOIA does not set out a statutory time for completing an internal review, but we consider a reasonable time in most cases is 20 working days from the date of the request for an internal review. For complex or high volume requests we accept that up to 40 working days is a reasonable timeframe.

If you remain dissatisfied once you receive the internal review and would like to appeal the outcome, please contact us within three months and include a copy of the internal review decision.

Yours sincerely,

[REDACTED]

Dear [REDACTED],

Thank you for prompting DLUHC to respond to my request for information. I have now received a response by email.

The response itself was on the basis that my request was vexatious due to the burden of redacting the large volume of information that was in scope. I will either follow up with a request to DLUHC for an internal review, or submit a second request to obtain information that will enable me to narrow my original request.

Kind regards,

Owen Boswarva

Dear Owen Boswarva,

Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA)

Your information request to Department for Levelling Up, Housing and Communities

Thank you for your complaint about the above public authority's delay in responding to your request for information.

I have contacted the public authority and asked it to respond to your request within 10 working days.

If you haven't had a response in that time, please let us know by emailing icocasework@ico.org.uk.

Please include your reference number in the subject title of your email.

If the public authority responds to your request and refuses to release the information you have asked for and you are dissatisfied, you should request an internal review.

Once you have exhausted the internal review procedure and if you don't agree with the outcome, you can ask us to continue to investigate your complaint. Please make sure you provide us with a copy of your internal review request and the public authority's response.

Yours sincerely,
